

Wheatland County Council Appoints Chief Administrative Officer

For Immediate Release

From the Office of Wheatland County Council

WHEATLAND COUNTY, ALBERTA – February 24, 2026 – Wheatland County Council is pleased to announce the appointment of Sherry Baers as the County’s new Chief Administrative Officer (CAO).

Sherry brings a strong background in municipal leadership and public administration. She has been with Wheatland County since 2019, serving as General Manager of Community and Development Services, and most recently as Interim CAO since November 2025. Her experience within the organization, combined with her leadership and operational expertise, positions her well to guide the County forward.

Council looks forward to working with Sherry to support effective governance, organizational excellence, and the continued delivery of high-quality services for Wheatland County residents.

“On behalf of Council, I am pleased to welcome Sherry Baers as Wheatland County’s new Chief Administrative Officer,” said Reeve Scott Klassen. “Her leadership, experience, and collaborative approach align well with Council’s priorities and our commitment to serving the community.”

As CAO, Sherry is Council’s only employee and is responsible for the overall administration and day-to-day operations of Wheatland County. The CAO ensures compliance with the Municipal Government Act, County Bylaws, and County policies, and provides strategic leadership in support of Council’s goals and priorities.
